Projects

Personal portfolio website project

A personal portfolio website project showcases your skills, projects, and experiences online. It typically includes an introduction, detailed "About Me" section, project highlights, skills list, downloadable resume, and contact information. This project helps build a professional online presence for job searching and networking.

Data analytics with python

A Diwali sales analysis project involves collecting and analyzing sales data from the Diwali season to identify trends and insights. This includes cleaning the data, conducting exploratory data analysis (EDA), and identifying key trends like peak sales days, popular products, and customer preferences. The goal is to draw actionable insights to improve inventory management, marketing strategies, and overall sales performance for future Diwali seasons.
